THE ONEIDA RICHES

From Participation in Which Charles A. Burt Was Debarred.

A SHARE IN TWO MILLIONS

The Prize for Which He Fights, the Sum Being Nearly $100,000.

HE WAS BORN IN THE COMMUNITY.

And flis Suit Brings Its Very Peculiar Customs Int the Courts.

Charles A. Burt, of Rochester, N. Y., is a plaintiff against the Oneida Community for a sum between $70,000 and $100,000, the share he claims in the general property. He was born in the society, was educated by it at Yale and conducted important business for it. The defense is that he had been expelled. The suit revives in the public memory the Oneida Community's peculiar

INPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. SYRACUSE, July 10 .- Attorney M. M. Waters, as referee, heard the case of Charles A. Burt, of Rochester, against the Oneida Community to-day in his office. The suit is one of the most important in many respects that has been tried in the Supreme Court of this State. Besides involving a large amount of property, the case is anomalous, to a great extent, and the decision will establish a precedent for judicial law in certain property relations which have never yet been called up for adjustment. Mr. Burt was tormerly a member of the community before it became an incorporated body, and it is claimed, but denied or his part, that he was legally expelled, by which act he is held to be deprived of any interest in the wealth of the organization, which is estimated by some as high as $2,000,000. The importance of the litigation made it seem advisable for a time to call a special session of the Supreme Court, but it was finally stipulated by the parties that the matter might be brought before Mr. Waters as referree, with the same effect as though tried before a Supreme Court Justice. For many weeks the taking of evidence was continued at intervals, so that in all at least 14 days were taken up by it, and after the summing up to-day Referee Waters will be entitled to 60 days for the filing of the decision with the County Clerk. A PERFECTIONIST FROM YOUTH. When, about 50 years ago, the Society of Perfectionists, known as the Oneida Community, was organized by John Humphrey Noves, the plaintiff's father deeded his farm to the community and became a member. From infancy the plaintiff was one of the society till he was 40 years of age. Being considered unusually bright, he was given a better education than most of the young men associated there and was sent to Yale College. Afterward he was put in charge of the mechanical department of the community, and finally had charge of the sales of canned goods. At the same time, he says, by consent of the community, he han-dled canned goods put up at Buffalo with the understanding that in every case he should sell community goods if possible. While in this department he claims that

While in this department, he claims that his health gave out and he was directed by his physician, Dr. John Van Duyn, of this city, to leave the institution for a time. During his absence, it is said, he continued to sell canned goods, depositing the pro-ceeds in the community's bank at Oneida. During that time Burt was declared exsociety and was given no compensation for the interest which he had held before the alleged expulsion. After this occurred the flight of Mr. Noyes, the founder of the community, to Canada and his death there, leaving the organization somewhat at sea and requiring radical changes. In 1881 the free love tenets were discarded and the entire organization was changed by incorporating it into a stock

INTERESTING LEGAL POINTS. The method of holding property by the community was peculiar and in many respects entirely independent of the State laws, but never questioned, because the members of the society willingly submitted to the social laws. The real and personal property was held in the names of a very few leaders, by whom it was managed for the common good, each member receiving what was deemed necessary for him or her, and the surplus added to the rapidly growing wealth of the community. On the in-corporation of the society the property was Kelln transferred to the incorporators. Among the interesting points of law to be settled are: Did the leaders of the community, to whom all the real estate was deeded expulsion was proper, could it deprive a member of whatever vested rights he may have attained by his services and association with the community? The community leaders assert that the right to the property was wholly with those individuals by whom it was held and that Mr. Burt and other ordinary members were only entitled to their board and clothing while they continued

COURSES OF PROCEDURE. In case Referee Waters decides against the community, it is probable that he will simply order the directors to give an ac-counting, for which work another referee would have to be appointed. Then the Court will have to settle whether Mr. Burt would have the right to seize upon the property to satisfy his claim on account of a conversion of his interests by the old leaders of the community, or whether his claim of his share in the property and the use of it should be computed and turned over to him by the incorporated company.

Mr. Burt is said to extinct his claim. Mr. Burt is said to estimate his claim from $70,000 to $100,000. Colonel George H. Hart, of New York, is attorney for the plaintiff, with T. K. Fuller, of this city, counsel, and Francis Kiernan, of Utica, as attorney for the community, with Tracy and McLenon, of this city, for counsel. This afternoon Attorneys McLennon and Fuller finished their arguments and ex-Senator Francis Kiernan spoke for the community. After Mr. Kiernan, Colonel Hart gave the final argument for the plaintiff, after which the case will be submitted to the referee ton Leg. ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE.1 NEW CASTLE, July 10.-Sylvester Sneathen, of this city, through his attorneys, has brought suit in the courts of Lawrence county against the Pennsylvania Com-pany for $20,000 damages. The plaintiff alleges that he was engaged in unloading a car of coke for the Crawtord Iron and Steel Company on August 2, 1888. He crawled door was adjusted in a proper manner, and while there a Pennsylvania loco-motive backed up to the car, and, without warning, backed over him, cutting off one leg and badly injuring the other. He aleges negligence on the part of the company in not giving proper warning.

A Man Who Wants $20,000 for the Loss of

Slaughtering Dervishes in Egypt. CAIRO, July 10 .- General Grenfell has arrived at Assouan. The sheiks have expressed loyalty. The Egyptians have occu-pied Bimban. The dervishes are very ag-gressive. The triendly Shaggiehs have killed 30 of them at Serra. An Egyptian picket has killed 11 dervish foragers.

TWO CELEBRATED CASES.

Maggie Welsh Plends Gullry of Concealing Her Child's Death .- That Javenile Purloiner of $15,000 in Allegheny.

In the Criminal Court yesterday Maggie Welsh pleaded guilty to concealing the death of ner child. Miss Welsh is 22 years of age. Last May she went to Whitehall, where the child was born. It was afterward found dead and hidden. Miss Welsh claimed to be married and that the child had died a natural death. She was indicted for murder, however, and yesterday pleaded guilty to the second count of the indictment, concealing the death of the child. She will be sentenced this morn-of the child. She will be sentenced this morning.

Margaret Burke, a 10-year-old girl, is on trial before Judge Stowe on a charge of larceny. She is accused of having stolen over $1,500. Last winter John E. Windle, proprietor of the Windle House, on Beaver avenue, Allegheny, began losing large sums of money. The money would be stolen from the rooms of the bouse, and no clew could be obtained to the thief. Finally Detective Perkins was engaged and a trap was set. An electric bell was attached to the drawer of a bureau in which the money was usually kept, and a watch was maintained. One afternoon the bell was heard tinkling, and Detective Perkins caught the Burke child in the act of taking some money from the drawer. She was arrested, but denied any knowledge of the former thefts. She is the daughter of a well-to-de mechanic, employed in the locomotive works, and played about the house with the Windle children. At the trial vesterday a number of witnesses were produced who testified that the child always had a pocketful of money, and often had large bills changed at the different stores in the neighborhood.

lease of Rev. E. T. Flemmon, the prisoner de-tained in Central station on the charge of being wanted for murder in South Carolina. Assist-ant District Attorney Burleigh submitted a letter addressed to the police authorities, stat-ing that Flemmon was wanted for murder. An information has been made against Flemmon for being a fugnitive from justice. Judge Ewing stated that it was slim ground to hold the man on. He remanded Flemmon to jail until Saturday for a further hearing, in-structing the authorities to have their wit-nesses present.

THAT BOYCOTT JUDGMENT. Six Defendants Most Pay $2,437 50 and

Quit-Exceptions N. G. M. A. Woodward, Esq., yesterday filed his report as master in the Brace Brothers boycott case. As reported several days ago, he finds that J. L. Evans, M. P. Carrick, George Dovey, T. J. Dicus, W. D. McAuliffe and Felix Maire, of the defendants were connected with the boycott, and recommends that an injunction be issued against them, restraining them from further interference. The amount of damage sustained by Brace Brothers is placed at $2,437.50 at least. Exceptions to this finding had been filed by both sides, but were dismissed by the master.

TRULY A BIG JOB.

What a Prohibitionist Asks One of the Judges to Undertake. One of the Judges holding Quarter Session Court yesterday received a letter from a party signing himself J. D. The writer says: "The battle (in regard to prohibition) is set. How it battle (in regard to prohibition) is set. How it is to be fought; on what ground, I don't know, but He who rules all things well will attend to that, and don't you forget it! Now, I want you, Judga, to send this, my remonstrancet, o all the Judges, brewers and bottlers, wholesale and retail whisky dealers in the land. Watchman, what of the night?"

His Honor commented on the letter by merely saying, "Big job."

Little Bits of Litigation. JAMES L. ORR, the real estate agent of Alle F. Crowe, was yesterday found not guilty, but ordered to pay the costs.

ONLY A SILLY HOAX.

An Alleged Attempt to Dynamite the Parnell

LONDON, July 10 .- Mr. Michael Davitt appeared before the Parnell Commission again to-day. He complained that somebody who desired to injure the Irish in the eyes of the British public had placed two bogus dynamite machines within the pre-cinct of the court, and out of this alleged attempt atoutrage the Eccaing Post of London had made a sensational article, which said that this incident indicated the danger which the court had incurred, and showed how easily the desperate enemies of England, who had recently testified before the commission, could blow up the building. Mr. Davitt, in an excited manner, asserted his belief that the affair had been planned by Le Caron and Houston.

Presiding Justice Hannen said he understood why Mr. Davitt should have a strong feeling in the matter, but he must take the proper course and make inquiries to prove his allegations. The Justice said that he himself regarded the matter as a silly hoax.

The Troubles of Switzerland.

BERLIN, July 10 .- The North German Gazette says the publication by the Bundes-blatt of Switzerland's notes in regard to the complaints by the powers of the action of Socialists in Switzerland meets Germany's wishes, as it will enable the public to ob-tain a full knowledge of the facts, and to form a just opinion of the merits of the case. It says the notes would have been published in Berlin if such publication were not contrary to diplomatic usage.

TORTURED BY ROBBERS.

lasked Men Break Into a Country House An Old Man Bastinadeed to Make Him Reveal His Secret

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. JAMESTOWN, N. Y., July 10 .- David Campbell, a wealthy farmer living near Randolph, N. Y., was robbed of a small amount of money and terribly maltreated by amount of money and terribly maltreated by masked men last night. Mr. Campbell lives on an isolated country road, and, although claiming to be poor, it was generally believed he had a snug sum of money secreted somewhere. This morning he received $700 in discharge of a mortgage held by him, and this amount was deposited in the bank. During the night he was rudely awakened by three masked men who, after breaking in the door, bound their victim and then proceeded to search the premises.

They succeeded in unearthing about $5 in money, a shotgun and a few smaller articles. But not content with this they demanded, under threats of death, the $700 which he had received during the day. In vain he tried to convince them that the money was in the bank, and pleaded for mercy. They would not listen to this plea; but at once proceeded to the torture. A gag was placed in his mouth, his feet thrust through the pickets of the old-fashioned bedstead, on which he slept, and securely tied, and then the leader of the party proceeded to bastinado the unfortunate man until his of the party proceeded to astinato the unfortunate man until his feet swelled up like puff balls. The gag was occasionally removed to give him an opportunity to reveal the hiding place of the money, and when he protested that the cash was not in his possession the operation was continued until, despairing of this method, the robbers gave up in disgust and rode away.

the robbers gave up in disgust and rode away.

When they had gone Campbell began to look around for means of escape, and after a long struggle succeeded in cutting the bonds which bound his hands on the edge of an ax that had been left on the bed and which had been used in breaking down the door. It was but the work of a minute to sever the other bands, and he began the arduous task of crawling on his hands and knees to the house of a neighbor half a mile distant, where his wounds were bandaged and he was taken care of. He drove to Randolph to-day and the officers are now in pursuit of the ruffians. Mr. Campbell was alone at the time of the assault, his wife and family being absent on a visit. He is about 69 years old and much respected for his integrity.

The cases of catarrh treated and cured by the physicians of the Catarrh and Dyspepsia Institute at 323 Penn avenue, are usually those of the most advanced stages, and who have spent years of time and much money treating elsewhere, until by some friend or in reading the papers they learn of the Catarrh and Dyspepsia Institute, and that others have been cured of diseases similar to their own. The physicians of this institute refer with pride to the many testimonials already published and hundreds of others on file at their office, received from patients whom they have cored of simple catarrh, ulcerative catarrh and some cases where the lungs were badly diseased. Dyspepsia, including ulceration of the stomach and diseases of women. The words of comment and praise received concerning their treatment and care of diseases peculiar to women are very encouraging. Mrs. Dr. Crossley is always present during office hours to consult with ladies. "You will not publish my picture or name in the paper, will you?" is often asked. The portraits of patients are never displayed in the papers, and no testimonial or name of any patient is published in the papers without the full consent or wish of the patient.

"When is the best time to cure catarrh?" is asked. In the summer, by all means, as in cold weather with suoden changes of temperature, the patient is much more liable to colds, thus retarding the progress of the treatment. Many children are badly afflicted with catarrh, frequently developing into consumption at a very early age. The crowds of men, women and children that daily assemble at the pariors of the Catarrh and Dyspepsia Institute is the best evidence of the standing of these physicians and their success in making cures. Remember the place, $22 Penn avenue. Consultation free to all. Office hours, 10 A. M., to 4 P. M., and 6 to 8 P. M. Sundays 12 to 4 P. M. jy-9
